

Speak Out

english camp in Hungary

What is SpeakOut?

SpeakOut 2005 is a series of three, week-long, conversational English camps at Lake Balaton in Hungary. Each week, a group of Hungarian students who want to improve their English skills comes to the camps. Each day they attend large-group lectures, smaller SpeakOut groups, and spend individual time with their American tutors.

The SpeakOut Experience

Each year at SpeakOut, Hungarian high school and university students accept Christ, as God works in their lives throughout the week. The Hungarian students appreciate the open and non-threatening environment in which to consider the gospel.

The power of the SpeakOut experience is how the content and relationships work together. The Hungarians not only hear the gospel — but can see what the gospel looks like in our lives.

SpeakOut is an intense time of growth and service for the American high school and college students. They will experience inward growth through personal and small group discipleship. They will grow outwardly as they boldly share the gospel with the Hungarians.

Our Jobs

Both of us will be discipling 4-6 American students. We will meet with each student individually, as well as in a group Bible study. We are excited about this opportunity to connect with these students and share both our love for Christ and for Hungary.

As part of the camp, we'll participate in the fun activities during the week. During our time at SpeakOut 96, Jeff enjoyed playing soccer with the American and Hungarian students.

For Anne, one of the highlights of SpeakOut 96 was getting to teach and help lead the morning English classes for the Hungarians. These classes addressed fun topics like American slang, as well as tougher issues.

During that summer, we were able to give a talk on waiting until marriage to have sex. Several of the Hungarian girls met with Anne to discuss this topic, and the hurt they had experienced in past relationships.

Taking the Family to Hungary

Although this is Jeff's fifth trip to Hungary, this is the first time we've taken our family to a country that's gripped our hearts for over 15 years.

God has used our personal partnership with Hungary to build our faith and dependence on Him.

We are excited to minister as a family — not only to Hungarians but to the American students going with us.
